To become an osteopathic physician, you need the opportunity to practice osteopathic principles in a clinical setting. As a student of osteopathic medicine, a program with Osteopathic Recognition (OR) is your natural next step.

RESIDENTS

2,000+ Residents in residency programs with osteopathic recognition

RESIDENCY PROGRAMS

226 Programs with osteopathic recognition

SPECIALTY PROGRAMS

25 Different medical specialties offered by programs with OR

- MEDICAL ONCOLOGY
- OBSTETRICS AND GYNECOLOGY
- HOSPICE AND PALLIATIVE MEDICINE (MULTIDISCIPLINARY)
- INTERNAL MEDICINE/PEDIATRICS
- RADIOLOGY-DIAGNOSTIC
- UROLOGY
- PHYSICAL MEDICINE AND REHABILITATION 1-PSYCHIATRY
- PULMONARY DISEASE AND CRITICAL CARE MEDICINE
- PEDIATRICS

- FAMILY MEDICINE
- EMERGENCY MEDICINE

- SURGERY
- TRANSITIONAL YEAR
- ANESTHESIOLOGY
- DERMATOLOGY

- INTERVENTIONAL CARDIOLOGY
- INTERNAL MEDICINE
- SPORTS MEDICINE

- OTOLARYNGOLOGY - HEAD AND NECK SURGERY
- NEUROLOGY

- OSTEOPATHIC NEUROMUSCULOSKELETAL MEDICINE
- CARDIOVASCULAR DISEASE
- ORTHOPAEDIC SURGERY
- ALLERGY AND IMMUNOLOGY

Types of Institutions with Osteopathic Recognition

- Academic Medical Centers
- Teaching Hospitals
- University-affiliated Medical Centers
- Osteopathic Postdoctoral Training Institutions
- Army Community Hospitals
- Community-based Hospital Health Networks
- Health System Regional Medical Centers
- Regional Referral Centers

Data as of March 2020